ROADWAY[®] Express

Roadway Express is a 16 week program, divided into four levels. Once you have been accepted into the program, you will begin studying for the CDL permit.

After four weeks and passing the permit test, you begin driving on the training pad. The following eight weeks you will practice driving on the center and taking trips off center.

Level 1

Classroom instruction. The primary focus is general knowledge of both the trucks and the trucking industry.

Level 2

Instruction shifts to the physical aspect of training. Actual driving techniques and basic drop and hook procedures are among the focus.

Level 3

Begins the second phase of the driving aspect of the program. Advanced techniques are introduced and preparation for the CDL Driving Skills Examination begins. The activity takes place on the course area of the driving pad.

Level 4

Actual public highway driving begins during this final level. At the completion of level four is the CDL Examination.

Because Roadway is a Union company, a new employee can expect certain benefits if they are selected for employment by the Roadway Team.
